

ICW Scholarship Descriptions for 2012-13
Scholarships Requiring ICW General Scholarship Application and awarded by an ICW selection committee

Scholarships are limited to students entering or attending one of the Independent Colleges of Washington (ICW) member institutions: Gonzaga University, Heritage University, Pacific Lutheran University, Saint Martin's University, Seattle Pacific University, Seattle University, University of Puget Sound, Walla Walla University, Whitman College, and Whitworth University.

Note: Scholarships listed are always subject to donor funding and no scholarship award is valid until funding and eligibility is confirmed by the ICW office to the ICW member college and student financial aid office.

Richard E. Bangert Business Award - (1) $1,000 - Confirmed

Richard E. Bangert has served on the Board of ICW since the 1960's, several of those years as chairman. He is now a director emeritus and still very involved in Board activities. He received his Bachelor of Science degree in Economics from the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce. He also attended the Pacific Coast Banking School and received an Honorary Doctorate of Laws from Gonzaga University. In his banking and finance career, he worked for a number of Seattle institutions and was President, CEO, and Chairman of Pacific National Bank. In 1985, Mr. Bangert retired as chairman of First Interstate Bank of Washington. The scholarship is funded by First Interstate Bank, family, and friends. Applicants must be a junior or senior at the time of award (Fall 2012), majoring in business or a business-related field, articulate their understanding of the role of a business leader in our society, and must have demonstrated financial need. The award is not renewable.

Obtain ICW scholarship application from your financial aid office or at www.ICWWashington.org/scholarships.

Required one-page essay topic: How will my education at this college impact my career choice?

E. K. & Lillian F. Bishop Foundation Scholarship - (1) $1,000 - Confirmed

E. K. & Lillian F. Bishop were residents of Grays Harbor County, Washington. Mr. Bishop was born in Alton, Illinois and made his way west to Aberdeen, Washington where he made his fortune in the lumber industry. His wife, Lillian Fleet Bishop, was a native of Grays Harbor County and the daughter of a civil engineer. They created the Foundation "to give financial assistance to organizations and programs for the benefit of young people." The Foundation, today managed by a board of trustees, supports a wide range of charitable, cultural, educational, and recreational programs. The Foundation created an Endowment with ICW in 2004 to annually benefit students attending an ICW institution who have a permanent home address in Grays Harbor County, Washington, and who articulate the impact Grays Harbor County has had on them. Applicants must have demonstrated financial need. The award is not renewable.

Obtain ICW scholarship application from your financial aid office or at www.ICWWashington.org/scholarships.

Required one-page essay topic: How will my education at this college, and my years in Grays Harbor County impact my career choice?

The Boeing Company Scholarship - (1) $2,500 - Confirmed

The Boeing Company is a worldwide leader in airplane and aerospace design, engineering and manufacturing. It is also one of the most generous donors in the history of Independent Colleges of Washington, having provided more than $9 million to Washington's independent colleges and universities during ICW's first half-century of service. To help celebrate the 50th anniversary of ICW, the company established an endowed scholarship, which will provide a $2,500 annual scholarship in perpetuity. Applicants must be a junior or senior at time of the award (Fall 2012), and majoring in science, technology, engineering or mathematics field; should demonstrate involvement in community service, and have a minimum 3.25 GPA. One student will be selected from all applicants to receive the annual scholarship. The award is not renewable.

Obtain ICW scholarship application from your financial aid office or at www.ICWashington.org/scholarships.

Required one-page essay topic: How will your education at an independent college impact your role in the future of Washington?

Garrett J. Goodchild Achievement Award - Up to $20,000 over 4 years - Confirmed

As a memorial to Garrett J. Goodchild, who passed away in 1996 prior to his senior year at Eastlake High School, family and friends established the award. This scholarship is intended to assist a student from either Eastlake High School or Redmond High School to attend one of the ten ICW member institutions. Applicants should take the opportunity to receive a college education seriously and prove it in their academic merit - measured by a minimum GPA in high school of 3.0 or above; demonstrated financial need is considered. Students may apply for the scholarship prior to making their final college choice, as long as they have applied to one of the ICW member colleges and universities. The scholarship is a $5,000 renewable award for up to four years if student maintains at least a 3.0 GPA and valid at any ICW college.

Once funding is confirmed, obtain ICW Goodchild application from your EHS or RHS counseling office or at www.ICWashington.org/scholarships.

Required one-page essay topic: The essay should tell us about your senior project—Eastlake; or senior presentation portfolio—Redmond for example, what types of artifacts have you been uploading and what do those documents stand for or mean to you. What do they show? Growth, reflection, struggles, pride, and why/how.

David M. Irwin Friend of Higher Education Award - (1) $1,000 - Unconfirmed

David M. Irwin, a graduate of Seattle University, served independent colleges and universities, and students wishing to pursue such an education, for 30 years while with Washington Friends of Higher Education, a precursor organization to the current ICW. As president of the public policy organization, he was instrumental in raising the amount of federal and state aid for individuals attending independent, four-year institutions to unprecedented levels. To demonstrate their respect for Mr. Irwin upon his retirement in 1998, friends and associates created the endowed scholarship to honor students who understand the value of such an education and are aware of the need for support of their institution and students in the future. Applicants must be juniors or seniors in good standing at the time of the award (Fall 2012) and show the impact attending the independent college has had on their lives. Students with a GPA of 2.5 to 3.0 are especially encouraged to apply. The award is not renewable.

Obtain ICW scholarship application from your financial aid office or at www.ICWashington.org/scholarships.

Required one-page essay topic: How will my education at this college impact my career choice?

Stanley O. McNaughton Community Service Award - (2) $2,500 - Confirmed

Stanley O. McNaughton (1921-1998) was a “founding father” of Independent Colleges of Washington and was recognized as one of the most effective philanthropists in the history of this region. He was Chairman and CEO of PEMCO Financial Center. His passion and vision touched countless people as he lived a life of commitment to community service. In honor of his lifetime of leadership in volunteerism and financial support, and in acknowledgement of PEMCO’s major financial investment in this scholarship program, the award now carries Mr. McNaughton’s name. The award honors students who realize the significance of giving to others. One of Mr. McNaughton’s frequent statements: “If you see a need, you must respond to it,” is representative of his personal philosophy. Applicants must be a junior or senior at the time of award (Fall 2012). They should demonstrate a history of dedicated volunteer service through high school and college, balanced by academic achievement. Applicants must have demonstrated financial need. The award is not renewable.

Obtain ICW scholarship application from your financial aid office or at www.ICWashington.org/scholarships.

Required one-page essay topic: Your experience and views on volunteerism and community service.

William G. Saletic Endowed Scholarship - (1) Up to $1,000 - Unconfirmed

William G. Saletic, an active board member of ICW until his death in 1999, was a graduate of Seattle University. He was grateful for the educational opportunities he had been given and strongly believed the private college option should be maintained and made available to any student who wanted such an opportunity. Upon his retirement in 1998, Mr. Saletic was President and Chief Executive Officer of Peter Pan Seafoods, a Seattle company where he had served for 22 years. Friends, family, and business associates established The Saletic Endowment to honor Mr. Saletic’s memory, particularly his interest in history and politics. Applicants for this award must be a junior or senior in good standing with a declared major in history or political studies at the time of award (Fall 2012). Students with a GPA of 2.5 or above are encouraged to apply. The award is not renewable.

Obtain ICW scholarship application from your financial aid office or at www.ICWashington.org/scholarships.

Required one-page essay topic: Why my special interest is in politics and/or history?